The fitness empress strikes again, and this time, with style! Jillian Michaels has officially launched her first activewear line, IMPACT by Jillian Michael. (Is there any realm of fitness she doesn't touch??). And it's not discriminating against any type of active individual. Just because you don't put yourself through "last chance workouts," doesn't mean you can't enjoy the line.

The former Biggest Loser star created it with core training, running, yoga, and lifestyle in mind. "I drew inspiration from every fitness category and trend out there, so no matter who you are and what you're doing, you will feel empowered while wearing the collection," she says.

The collection features sweat-wicking, lightweight fabrics with pops of color and other design elements so while they perform well in the gym, they also look good for the street post-workout. It features everything from capris, to shorts, to tanks, to hats and bags.
